Intel Foundation: Historical Perspective

Igniting Positive Change Since 1995, Intel employees and US retirees have contributed nearly 18 million volunteer hours, result-Founding Deepening Impact ing in $122M in matching grants. The Intel Foundation is established Since its founding in 1988, the Intel Focus on Girls and Women in STEM Foundation has contributed more in 1988 as a non-profit organization expands. The Board of Directors than $731M to impact communities in the state of Oregon. Gordon Moore, expands to broaden diverse Branded Programs across the US and around the Intel Chairman at the time, is among representation. The Andy Grove world. The Foundation co-launches the first board members. Its first Launch Scholarship program providing the Million Girls Moonshot movegrant takes place in 1989 with the scholarships for dependents of The Intel® Computer Clubhouse scope initially US based. ment and introduces its new employees launches in 2009. Network sponsorship begins in 2000. 5-year strategy. The global scope expansion begins. 1994-1998 2004-2008 2014-2018 1988-1993 2019-NOW 1999-2003 2009-2013 Global Expansion Donation Matching Intel® Involved Matching Grants 30 Year Anniversary expands worldwide achieving The Foundation's first program to Transition to employee-driven philanthropy: Donation 1 million volunteer hours. match employee charitable donations and Volunteer Matching programs enable donations to any launches in 1994. Originally known eligible cause in the US and match volunteer time globally. as "Matching Gifts for Education," In 2015, the Intel Foundation co-founds the Women in it is now known as the Donation Science (WiSci) STEAM camps in collaboration with the Matching Program. Volunteer United Nations Girl Up Initiative and the US Department of Matching follows in 1995. Intel State. The She Will Connect (SWC) US Initiative launches announces sponsorship of the in 2016. ISEF and the Intel Computer Clubhouse Networks International Science & Engineering sponsorships conclude in 2018 and 2015, respectively. Fairs (ISEF) in 1997 and is co-funded by the Foundation. This period also marks the start of K12 education outreach.

